

To Whom It May Concern:

My opinion on the Canadian treaty is that there are enough problems with the amount of boats fishing in United States waters for albacore. It is ludicrous to think that any amount of foreign fishing vessels should be allowed to continue fishing in the U.S. waters. It is my opinion that the treaty should be terminated at this time., and possibly renew negotiations at a later time, giving time for the United States to deal with the management of its Albacore fishery without the influx of foreign vessels. Reasons

- selling fish in U.S. ports / markets - overcrowding on fishing grounds - very over-aggressive with other boats on the grounds. - Less slips available for U.S.
